

This Cookie Is — Wholesale Information

Small batch wholesale cookies for cafés, shops, markets, and community spaces.

Small Batch Production

All cookies are made in a licensed commercial kitchen in small batches. Dough is mixed, scooped, and baked fresh with a focus on consistency, quality ingredients, and texture. Many doughs are rested before baking for better flavor and structure. No preservatives.

Ordering & Lead Times

Typical lead time is about one week, though production does not happen every week and availability depends on the current baking schedule and capacity. Larger or event-based orders may require additional notice.

Delivery Schedule

Most wholesale deliveries happen on Fridays. Portland-area delivery is available, and pickup may be possible by arrangement.

Minimum Orders

Minimum wholesale order is typically 24 cookies. Mix-and-match flavors are available depending on production schedule and availability.

Packaging

Cookies are individually packaged and labeled with ingredient and allergen information. Packaging is retail-ready and heat-sealed for freshness when needed.

Shelf Life

Cookies are best within the first few days but generally have a shelf life of about 7 days when sealed and stored at room temperature.

Flavor Rotation

Alongside the core lineup, rotating Baker's Special flavors are offered in limited batches throughout the year. Some flavors may be exclusive to select wholesale partners.

What Kinds of Businesses Do You Work With?

Coffee shops, cafés, gift shops, markets, hotels, and community-focused businesses that value small-batch local products and thoughtful presentation.

What Do You Look For in a Wholesale Partner?

I'm most interested in working with businesses that genuinely care about quality, presentation, and customer experience. The best partnerships tend to be with places that enjoy telling the story behind the products they carry and are excited about supporting small local makers.

Availability & Capacity

Production is intentionally kept small, so wholesale availability is limited and based on current capacity and overall fit.

We're probably a good fit if...

- You value small-batch products with personality
- Your customers care about local makers
- You want something more memorable than a standard café cookie
- You appreciate consistency and communication

We may not be the best fit if...

- You need very high-volume production immediately
- You're looking for the lowest-cost cookie possible
- You need large-scale distributor fulfillment
